Sports Season Begins Friday: Inaugural Game and Festivities

by Stan Hodge
Sports Editor

A new sports season begins at Brigham Young University Friday as the first game of the 1964-65 year sees the Cougar squad takes the field.

Highlight of the evening will be the lighting of the Y torch. This will be a part of the pregame festivities. President Hugh B. Brown, of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, will start the activities by lighting a torch at the west gate of the Tabernacle in Salt Lake City.

Runners of the BYU Cross Country Team will then carry the torch by relay, expecting to arrive at the stadium at 7:45 p.m. to light the 15-foot block Y with an eternal flame.

Gates to the modern, all-steel structure will open at 5:30 p.m. to an expected crowd of 34,000 from all over the Intermountain West. This will probably be the largest crowd ever gathered in the state.

REGAME ACTIVITIES are scheduled to get underway at 7 p.m. beginning with a special program "In Retrospect," written and directed by Doug Stewart, director of last year's Sweepstakes winners "Christmas Bells."

The program will trace BYU football history from its days as an Academy, and through a half dozen different playing sites to 1964 and the new Stadium.

At 7:30 p.m. spotlights will appear an airborne Cosmo as he parachutes onto the playing field. Cosmo, long the symbol of BYU athletic enthusiasm, will be making the most sensational entry of his career. His identity will be

THE SIX BYU stakes will host Utah Valley members of the east of the General Priesthood meeting of the Church Saturday at 7 p.m. in the Smith Fieldhouse.

Fred Schwendiman, President of the BYU Third Stake, said the proceedings in the Salt Lake Tabernacle will be projected on an 18 by 24 foot screen. About 5,000 persons will be able to view the screen in the Fieldhouse, he said.

THE PRIESTHOOD meeting is a closed session and will not be broadcast on commercial radio or television channels. The Fieldhouse will open at 6 p.m.

The Saturday and Sunday sessions of General Conference at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. each day also will be projected on the screen. However, these will be the same as the regular television broadcast.

A LIMITED SUPPLY of faculty member tickets for the Church Department of Education section at Conference are still available, and will be given out on a first come, first served basis.

President David O. McKay, now observing his 91st year, plans to preside over the conference sessions. He will be assisted by his two counselors President Hugh B. Brown, first counselor, and President N. Eldon Tanner, second counselor.

FOR POST-GAME ENTERTAINMENT the world-famed BYU International Folk Dancers will perform on the field. The folk dancers are under the direction of Mary Bee-Jensen and have recently returned from tours of Europe and the South Pacific.

Interested In World Affairs? Then Attend Model UN Meet

Students interested in participating in international affairs are invited to attend the introductory meeting of the Model United Nations Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. in 438 Y Center.

PERHAPS THE MOST interesting and unique organization on campus, the M.U.N. provides an opportunity for students to become aware of international problems, and to participate in world affairs said David Galbraith of the Model U. N. Club.

Established exactly like the U.N., the M.U.N. discusses world situations and votes on points of action and legislation.

Highlights of the year's program will include visits from top U. N. officials and a M.U.N. of the Far West convention to be held in April at Claremont College, Calif. The one-week conference will include lectures, programs, debates, and councils.

ABOUT 110 UNIVERSITIES will participate, representing designated member countries of the U. N. Among the five most coveted positions is that of representing the U.S.S.R. BYU delegates have been selected to represent this government at the convention.

Dave Galbraith, M.U.N. chairman, emphasizes that the M.U.N. is of an academic nature. All students interested are urged to attend the meeting Tuesday.

Dreams Become Reality

Tonight the Cougar team will either go down in history or down in defeat at the hands of the New Mexico Lobos. Whether or not they win or lose this inaugural game, the work and dreams of thousands of alumni, citizens and students will be fulfilled.

The stadium which now towers over Canyon Road is truly a modern wonder. It's shadow can be seen extending far into the fields west of the road. From the foothills, the silent steel rises like a giant ship cruising in still waters. It is a structure that every BYU fan can pass with pride as he drives to the natural beauty of mountain canyons.

Very few universities in the west are able to boast of a stadium of such size and excellence.

What brought about this modern wonder? Money? Time? Hard work?

The truth is a combination of all these essential elements.

Money was raised through voluntary contributions. It came from all over the globe. Willing people dug deep into their pockets and produced approximately $700,000 of the initial $1,500,000 construction cost. These funds represent the never ending enthusiasm for college sports and the never ending desire to see BYU excel.

The time and hard work spent on this project cannot be counted. Hours upon hours have been spent in planning, scheduling and executing the construction work. Here the success was possible because of men who were involved.

Men of great vision have made a stadium which will become history. Tonight it will turn from a silent giant into a roaring cougar.

The pride of Brigham Young University.

Freshman Candidates Should Attend Meeting

All freshman Candidates or all who desire to run for freshman class officers should plan to attend the freshman nominations meeting at 5 p.m. today in room 321 "Y" Center. Bring another freshman to nominate you.

This meeting is for the purpose of officially nominating candidates for all freshman class officers.

After the opening announcements Mary Ann Black, Chairman of the Elections Committee, will turn the meeting over to nominations beginning in chronological order with the office of president.

The candidates must complete the acceptance form, which they may pick up at the meeting just prior to its beginning, and turn them in to the Election Committee after the meeting is over.

Before concluding Mary Ann will address the candidates wishing each the best of luck in the coming campaign.

Upon completion of the meeting the candidates are free to start their campaigns.

Ticket Policy On Trial Basis

The Block Y membership card in order to be admitted to that party club section. However, only one club card is needed for those who have dates.

In answer to the question of why tickets weren't distributed earlier, the Executive Council members stated, that a sounding board was held to which all students were invited. This meeting gave the student a chance to express their feelings about when tickets should be distributed.

The pros and cons of distributing tickets a week before the game were discussed. Raymond Beckham, in charge of student ticket distribution remarked that during the last season years ago he has distributed tickets every feasible plan has been tried. He said that when tickets had been distributed a week before the game, their were students who found that their plans and changed and they could not attend the game.

By distributing the tickets at 5:30 p.m. this vacant seat problem is avoided.

Bruce Olsen quoting Mr. Beckham said, that approximately 20 per cent more students can be admitted to the game by following this plan.

The sounding board brought out the fact that distribution just prior to the game will save the students from standing in two lines-one to get their ticket and other to get into the stadium.

The ticket policy that has been set up for the New Mexico game is an experimental one. Bruce Olsen said, it's effectiveness will be tried Friday night.

If changes are warranted they will be made for the following game.

Red China Celebrates Calm Birthday; People Told To Unite Against U.S.

TOYKO (AP) — Communist China celebrated its 15th birthday day with the defiant cry that evolution is the incentive of glory." It apparently did not cease to mark the occasion by lighting off an atom bomb.

Peking's Mayor Peng Chen declared the revolutionary key-note, reiterating the tough policy which Moscow declares, before thousands of Chinese and foreign dignitaries massed in the Square of Celestial Peking in the Chinese Capital.

Though there had been lively speculation that the Chinese might cap the day's festivities with an announcement that they had fired their first nuclear device, neither Peng nor President Liu Shao-Chi even mentioned the word nuclear in anniversary addresses.

Japanese correspondents in Peking reported that informed Chinese sources said U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk's statement that Red China may explode a nuclear device soon was a "fabrication."

"No one," the Chinese sources said, "not even chairman Mao Tse-Tung or President Liu Shao-Chi, knows when Communist China will explode a nuclear device."

"The oppressed peoples are bound to rise in revolution, the imperialists and all the reactionaries will inevitably perish and the world is sure to march forward."

Mayor Peng shouted in the day's major speech before 500,000 paradeers began moving through the square.

"This is the law of Historical Development, which no one can alter. The people of the whole world should unite and persevere in struggle; our prospects are infinitely bright."

Peng claimed that "a powerful industrial system based on self-reliance has been built up," and said that new development in culture, education and science "have eloquently proved that the Chinese people are fully capable of scaling the world's summits in science and technology."

He admitted, however, that "we still have shortcomings, mistakes and difficulties" and that they occur not only every year but every month.

He called on Communists everywhere to unite against "United States Imperialism which he said 'is plundering not only the economically backward countries in Asia, Africa and Latin American but also the economically developed capitalist countries, its partners included.'"

Through Peng sounded the revolutionary theme and made clear China intends to push its fight against the Soviet policy of pseudo co-existence. The atmosphere in Peking appeared momentarily free of the recriminations of recent months.

Nominees Be Careful

WASHINGTON (AP) Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., today urged President Johnson, Republican Presidential nominee Barry Goldwater and vice presidential running mates to avoid risking their lives by imprudent mulling with impaign crowds.

With a grim reference to the Warren Commission report on the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, the Senate democrat leader urged all four electoral candidates "to avoid exposing themselves unnecessarily to this danger."

"The Warren Report underscores American political history showing that the disaster of an assassination of a national figure if only can be, but is likely to be the work of a single warped mind," Mansfield told the Senate prepared remarks.

He urged the candidates to comply with security safeguards of the Secret Service and other law officials and protectors.

"It is a matter of basic prudence and has nothing whatever to do with personal courage or confidence in the people of the United States," he said.

Mansfield noted that a national campaign requires that the major candidates "present themselves in person throughout the nation."

But he said the Warren Commission found that precautions should be taken "to reduce the risks to the President and other candidates."

Basement Flooded in Health Center

Backing waters from drains in a Lab and X-ray Rooms caused flooding in the Clinic of the Howells, McDonald Student Health Center Thursday afternoon for 10 hours.

Nurses working in the Center fixed water coming out of the drains at about 2:30 p.m. The plumbing crew was called and survey made of the drains, and an effort to try and locate the source of the flooding elsewhere.

It was believed that the source of the water was from water systems in the Y Center and other buildings north of the McDonald Health Center. Nurses and custodians constantly mopped out the water to keep the water from seeping and damaging valuable X-rays and other laboratory equipment.

The west end of the bottom floor was the only area affected by the flooding. Only X-ray appointments were interrupted. Other clinic services carried on as usual.

President Holds Nuclear Power

WASHINGTON (AP) Defense officials said today the commander of the nation's missile and bomber forces has affirmed to President Johnson that "the only authority I recognize for expending nuclear weapons is the President of the United States."

These officials said Gen. Thomas S. Power, Chief of the Strategic Air Command, told this to Johnson yesterday when the President was in SAC's underground command post at Offutt Air Force Base, Omaha, Neb.

The "Red Phone" can reach all SAC Bases and command centers—about 86 around the world—directly and simultaneously.

In this way, the officer said,

SAC's bombers on alert and loaded with nuclear weapons would get the word to take off and be in the air in 15 minutes, enough time for them to escape any enemy missile attack.

Defense officials said, Power told the President:

"I would like to make one thing clear. I have the authority to order the planes to take off so they cannot be destroyed on the ground, but I have no authority to order them to expend their nuclear weapons."

The only authority I recognize for expending nuclear weapons is the President of the United States."

'The' Button Gets Pushed In Uinta Film

Whatever you do, don't push it!

Instead, be prepared for explosions of laughter when Gordon Associates presents the "Danis Button" now showing at the Uinta Theatre.

MAURICE CHEVALIER, Eleanor Parker, Jayne Mansfield, Michael Conners and Akim Tamiroff lead the cast shot almost entirely in the streets of Rome, from the fashionable Via Veneto to the narrowest cobble alley in the old part of the city.

Shooting started with a real-life panic on the set when Jayne Mansfield burst the zipper of her skin tight slacks right in front of the camera's eye.

Director George Sherman called out wardrobe maistresses rushed to the rescue, and a towel was hastily produced to spare Miss Mansfield's blushes while the slacks underwent repair.

Read Labels First When Buying 'Fun' Clothing

While shopping for all those fun things we all like to buy, don't get carried away. Read the labels. The manufacturer has put them there for your benefit. The information they contain is vital to the life and care of your garment.

THE CONTENT label tells whether the fabric is of man-made or natural fibers, gives necessary information for washing or cleaning, whether it's guaranteed for color-fastness and against shrinkage.

The newest label you will find is small but potent: the little ILGWU union label attached to an inside seam, showing that the garment has been produced by skilled hands under conditions suitable to our American way of life. It is one of more than one billion fashion units produced annually in this country.

Tuberculin Skin Test Still Given

Students who haven't taken advantage of the Test for Tuberculosis are encouraged to go to the McDonald Health Center. This is the same test which was offered to the students during the fall semester registration in the Field House.

According to Dr. Cloyd C. Hofheins, Health Center director, the skin test establishes two things. FIRST, if a person at the time of the test has within his body any of the tuberculin protein from the bacteria which causes the disease, he will show a positive reaction—redness in the test area. Secondly, if the test is negative, it means that the person at that particular time is free from the bacteria protein, and therefore free from the disease.

THIS PROGRAM is financed from the health fees which are required of all full-time students. The test can be given at the Student Health Center between 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Students who had the skin test during registration, but who haven't turned in their test form, are urged to get them to the Health Center immediately.

Cougar Club Reorganizes For Members

The Cougar Club, BYU students who organized in 1962 to help the university's athletic program, is now opening its ranks to members of the BYU Alumni.

THE EXPANSION was a result of the combined efforts of the Cougar Club, the Alumni Association, and the Athletic Dept.

The Cougar Club, with a 1964-65 goal of $25,000, intends to aid the BYU athletic program by assisting in the recruiting and fellowshiping of potential BYU athletes and by giving financial support through their annual membership fee of $100 to the A-List Travel Fund.

THIS is used to bring interested athletes to the campus as part of the university's recruiting program, and by helping to locate summer employment for BYU athletes.

Membership in the national organization is open to all men who will actively support its goals. An association membership is available to men under thirty years of age at $25 per year.

ALL MEMBERS will receive a weekly bulletin during the season to keep them in touch with BYU sporting news. Any person interested in joining the Cougar Club should contact the Alumni Association.

WHY WE CARRY GANT

There's more than fabric superiority in Gant. In addition, "needled into the ways and woof of every Gant shirt" — there's their fair show — three vital invariants that make all the difference when a man wears a Gant.

We chose Gant because they take shirt making seriously. They're hard to please (like we are) when it comes to fit of collar, its roll, its profile—how much it shows above the suit collar. They're fastidious about the way the body of the shirt drapes and folds. All must integrate to achieve that viable ingredient which gives comfort and aplomb. In substance, Gant shirts are keyed to the discerning tastes of well groomed men who appreciate quality. These men are our customers.

THE CONFERENCE, sponsored by the American Home Economics Association, discussed ways which our educators can contribute to the work of the Peace Corps and the AID.

Having spent seven years on the southeast Asia serving on a committee similar to this one, Dean Cutler is considered well-qualified in the area of international education.

THE POSITION she now holds in the Home Economics Association's committee is a continuing one.

Galaxy Sponsors Essay Contest; Subject Freedom

In conjunction with its October issue the Galaxy is sponsoring an essay contest open to the faculty and students of the BYU. Winning papers will be published in the October Galaxy, according to Editor Elaine Goodman.

Entrants should confine themselves to the topic "What Price Freedom?" Length should not exceed 500 words. All entries should be typewritten and double spaced with a 60-space line. Papers will be accepted until Oct. 5 at the Daily Universe Office, fifth floor of the Center.

Official Speakers Address Students

Mr. Daniel P. Oleksiw, representing the U.S. Information Agency, and Mr. John M. Dennis, from the Department of State, will be on campus Monday to talk to students about career opportunities with their agencies.

Co-sponsored by the Placement Bureau and the World Affairs Committee, the guests will speak to the Pol. Sci. 310 class in 310 McKay at 2 p.m., History class in 365 McKay at 1 p.m., the general public in 278 Knight Bldg. at 4 p.m., and language major students in 261 McKay at 5 p.m.

Communications Symposium—Advertising To Be Discussed

Monday's Communications Symposium will feature Francis E. Peek, vice-president of Harris and Love Inc., advertising agency which serves the Intermountain area, said Heber Wolsey, chairman of the Symposium series.

Mr. Peek started his career in advertising with Harris and Love in 1952, as an accountant. He was soon promoted to accountant executive and vice president of the corporation. Some of Mr. Peek's duties are writing and producing radio and television advertisements, giving sales training and point of sales advertising.

MR. PEEK received his B.S. degree in Banking and Finance and Bachelor of Fine Arts in Commercial Art at the University of Utah. He is also a graduate of the Eastman Kodak School of Photography in New York. Peek served as an aerial photographer for the Air Force during World War II.

He is titling his speech: "The Dynamics of Advertising". The weekly series are being held in F201 Harris Fine Arts Center at 4:15 p.m.

Special Programs Made

Programs for Friday's BYU-New Mexico football game are in the finishing stages at the BYU Press. The programs for this year's football games will be a standard, 24-page program, but for Friday's inaugural game a special two-color eight page insert will be included.

THIS IS THE first year that the BYU Press has done all printing of the football programs. In previous years the programs were ordered and the press merely printed in all woodblock. Some of the pictures for the full color covers are photos of sports events used in issues of the Banyan.

Delvare Pope, assistant manager of the press, estimates that it will take least 250 manhours work on the programs before they are completed. Not only has the press handled these programs, but Mr. Pope said that the BYU Press has printed at least 30 other different print jobs in connection with the opening of the new stadium.

Frosh Nominations Start Yearly Race

All freshman candidates or all who desire to run for freshman class offices should plan to attend the freshman nominations meeting at 5 p.m., Friday in 321 Y Center. Candidates must be nominated by another freshman.

Candidates may pick up their acceptance forms before the meeting and must have them completed and turned in after the meeting is over, according to Chairman Mary Ann Black.

Y Spirit Bouys Hope...

—by Stan Hodge, Sports Editor

BYU fans need to go a long way back to remember a time when the studentbody and surrounding areas have generated as much enthusiasm and spirit as exists on the campus this year.

It could be the fantastic new stadium—only a dream for many years—that has caused the upsurge in spirit.

It could be the new coach: the instilling of the spirit of the Y into the team, first, and then having it spread like a brush fire into the entire studentbody and surrounding community.

Mr. Hodge

More Than Words It's A Creed Again

Coach Hudspeeth has made the BYU athletes creed a creed once again—more than mere words. But he's done it, not by pounding that creed into them, but first setting an example and then by making the team proud of themselves and their team and school.

The creed reminds the athlete that although he is an athlete, he is first and foremost a student. It reminds him that although adverse forces may be ranged against him, he will always do his best to win, but that winning will be incidental to playing the game well.

It also reminds him that his reputation as an athlete goes with him beyond the playing field, and, consequently, he must try to make it synonymous with the role of a gentleman, both at home and away, reflecting the standards of BYU in dress and conduct.

But at the same time, Coach Hudspeeth has taught them that a good sport and gentleman need not "roll over and play dead" when it looks as if someone else got to the pot of gold ahead of them.

Best Of All—It Works

His training was already obvious last spring as they waxed the alumni between two mountains of snow on a sloppy field. Already then BYU hopes were on the rise, but the fear continued to haunt them that the rebuilding could not be done in a year.

The prediction that BYU would have to be content with the role of "spider" may still be true. But they certainly did not roll over and play dead against Oregon.

Again last week no one can say they didn't try. In fact, it might even be said that if anything they tried too hard. Its always more comfortable to bury the losses and forget them, especially bad ones. But in doing so let's keep alive the spirit shown even in defeat. In review, the loss wasn't as bad as the 39-6 score indicated. The only real difference between the clubs, it had been pointed out was the punt returns of Frank Hurdlow. And perhaps it thought about we might decide that even though they lost, their spirit was not defeated.

Who Is The Underdog?

So what can BYU fans expect this weekend as the Mountain Cats go against the Lobos. Experts say its a toss up. New Mexico claims to be the underdogs. BYU observers seem to think the Pumas should be rated as underdogs.

I, however, prefer a statement made by Lee Chipman of the Deseret News who said, "Just a bunch, but we sort of look to see the Cougars disjoint Lobos all over the place, take 'em apart limb by limb in an attempt to prove, once and for all, that BYU football has truly arrived."

Time will tell.

Long-Awaited New Stadium Opens

by Bruce Van Orden
Universe Sports-writer

Friday night in the night all have been waiting for—the night BYU is finally able to use their new, modern, all-steel football stadium.

FOR YEARS university and athletic leaders have envisioned the large, useful stadium we have today. These dreams started to become realities almost a year ago when construction began.

The stadium is located between 1900 and 1875 North on Canyon Road. The structure is north of Helaman Halls and east of Page Elementary, and is within easy sight of all from campus hill.

UNLIKE OTHER campus buildings and facilities, the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints has not put its own funds into the stadium project. All monies necessary came from contributions.

One-third of the cost, $500,000, came from this year's students—$30 apiece. Another $300,000 came from labor, business, and professional group contributions. An additional $300,000 was raised by the University itself, and $200,000 came from a special community program. Such activities as the appearance of the U.S. Navy Band last spring added to the funds.

THE STANDS of the stadium currently 390 feet long along both sides of the field. The west side has 69 rows and the east side 51. This will allow for a present seating capacity of 30,500.

The stadium may be enlarged, however, to seat approximately 45,000. This will be accomplished by putting seats on the north in a bowl fashion and putting eighteen more rows on the east side.

THE STADIUM is complete with lights, public address system, restrooms, admission gates, fences, scoreboard, pressbox, ticket booths, concession stands, and training and equipment rooms.

The field itself is equipped with a special agriculture draining system to keep the gridiron free of excess water. The grass was planted a year ago last April and the sod was transferred last summer.

THE STADIUM will be available for other teams of the community, public events, conferences, and celebrations.

Geneva Steel of Utah County has produced all steel for the stadium.

Stadium parking facilities will hold 10,000 automobiles.

BYU STADIUM has been equipped with a modern rubberized asphalt track. The track has been called the "track of the future." Lines will be put on only once and will be permanent. Additionally, the track should never require resurfacing. It has been speculated that this track is bound to bring national meets to Provo.

The opening Friday is expected to be the greatest sports extravaganza in the history of the State of Utah. Over 34,000 fans are expected to turn out to the inaugural which could well make it the largest gathering of people in the state as well.

The stadium gates are scheduled to open at 5:30 p.m., with program festivities beginning at 7 p.m.

Inaugural Won't Be Forgotten

last home basketball game this year.

The halftime features Utah County Band Day. The BYU Marching Band will combine with 25 high school bands to present an evening will draw to a close with a spectacular display of fireworks.

IT'LL BE A Day Provo and BYU won't soon forget; and the football team will be doing their best to make it even more unforgettable.

The Cougars, admittedly, are still seeking their first victory of the 1964 season. Enthusiasm from both camps has been skyrocketing every day. With the new Cougar stadium giving the game added impetus, it should prove to be one of the best games the young Western Athletic Conference has yet produced.

THE BYU season has thus far been colorful at the very least. They began the season holding powerful Oregon to a 20-13 win . . . holding the offensive edge 119 of the actual score throughout the game.

Against Arizona last week the only real difference between the two clubs was the fantastic punt returning of half-pint Frank Hudlow.

New Mexico thus far has been whipped by the Utes in Salt Lake City and lashed Montana 20-0 last week.

Slate Saturday Bowling Team Eliminations

All bowlers who qualified for the final elimination round to decide the BYU inter-collegiate bowling squad are asked to report to the alleys, in the Y Center, at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Students Should Walk To Game

Studentbody President Bruce L. Olsen Thursday requested that all students who intend to be in attendance at the first game in the new BYU Stadium plan to leave their cars away from the stadium and walk to the game.

SOME 34,000 persons are expected to be at the game and, although there is a great parking area at the new structure site it is suspected that it will be inadequate for fans coming from out-of-town.

The studentbody officers therefore are acting on a recommendation from the Athletic Department and Campus Security in encouraging students to comply.

Olsen pointed out that this should not work a great hardship on students most of whom will want to return to the campus for the post-game dance. This request is for the opening game only.

It'll Be Rough: Hudspeth...

Cats Eye Opening Victory In Stadium

"It's going to be a real rough game."

THOSE sentiments, echoed by BYU football coach, Tom Hudspeth, just about sum up the feeling towards Friday night's encounter with the powerful New Mexico Lobos.

Bulwarking the New Mexico's line will be rugged Wayne Tyrdik and Jack Abendschan, both first-unit WAC choices last year. Coach Hudspeth calls Tyrdik "the best in the conference and possibly one of the best in the nation." Abendschan, checking in at a hefty 224, is one of the better guards in the WAC.

UNM COACH Bill Weeks likewise is blessed in the backfield as he has a young, promising quarterback and a pair of jack-rabbit backs. Quarterback Stan Quintana, "easily one of the better signal-callers in the league," according to Coach Hudspeth, is learning with every minute of play.

Backs Orvey Hampton and Joe Harris both have good speed and good size to their advantage.

ON THE Cougar side of the fence, there is nothing to be ashamed about and certainly nothing for some observers to rate UNM a definite underdog.

Novice quarterback Virgil Carter has proved his worth sevenfold while the backfield combo of the Ogden brothers, Steve and John, present a powerful one-two punch. The Cougar line, although thin, is aggressive.

"We're going to be ready and we're going to play the game possible." Again, Hudspeth's words reveal the important contest.
